READING THE LIST.

"Is there any news of the war?" she said,
"Is a list of the wounded and dead,"
Was the man's reply,
Without lifting his eye
To the face of the woman standing by.
"'Tis the very thing that I want," she said;
"Read me a list of the wounded and dead."

He read her the list—'twas a sad array
Of the wounded and killed in the fatal fray;
In the very midst was a pause to tell
Of a gallant youth, who had fought so well
That his comrades asked, "Who is he, pray?"
"The only son of the widow Gray,"
Was the proud reply
Of his Captain nigh;
What ails the woman standing near?
Her face has the ashen hue of fear!

"Well, well, read on; is he wounded? quick!
O God! but my heart is sore sick."
"Is he wounded—no, he fell, they say,
Killed outright on that fatal day!"
But see! the woman has swooned away!

Slowly she opened her eyes to the light:
Slowly recalled the event of the fight.
Faintly she murmured, "Killed outright:
It has cost the life of my only son:
But the battle is fought and the victory won;
Thy will, O Lord, let it be done!"
God pity the cheerless widow Gray,
And send from the halls of Eternal Day,
The light of his peace to illumine her way!

ANNUAL REPORT of County Superintendent for the School Year Ending June 2, 1862.

New School Houses.—Five new school houses were erected during the year: one in South Beaver township, two in Darlington township, one in Franklin township, and one in Hookstown boro. These buildings are all good ones.

There are 139 school houses in the county, 14 of which are unsuitable for school purposes. The furniture in 58 school rooms is unsuitable, and one is still without any blackboard.

Schools.—There are 28 graded schools: the remaining 132 are generally pretty well classified.

Examinations.—28 District examinations were held during the year, and 255 applicants examined; of these 4 received Profession certificates, 176 Provisional certificates, and 55 refused certificates of any kind.

Visitations.—125 schools received one visit each from County Superintendent, 25 schools two visits each, 5 schools three visits each, and 5 schools four visits each, making in all 293 visits to all the schools. Two schools were unavoidably passed without visitation. All the schools with the exception of two, Economy and Industry, were visited by some of the citizens at the time of my visit, and these were doubtless visited by many more during the term.

Institutes.—The Secretary of School Board in Franklin tp. received $5 for acting as District Superintendent. To the other districts the district secretaries received $219.-25 for acting as Secretaries merely.

School Exercises.—The scriptures were regularly read in 149 schools; not read in 29 schools.

Teachers' Meetings.—The teachers of Greene, Hanover, and Raccoon townships, formed a Teachers' Association last September, and met monthly during the school term; some fifteen to eighteen teachers attended. Teachers' meetings were also held in Ohio, Pulaski, Brighton and New Sewickly tps., and attended also by teachers from some of the other districts. These meetings, whenever properly conducted, have had the effect of making teachers more zealous in the discharge of their duties in the school room.

The mode of examining teachers in this county is to combine the oral and written methods. The oral is preferred where the class is not too large, as the manner of answering questions by the applicant indicates his ability almost as well as the answers themselves. The topical method has not been adopted. Such applicants as manifest considerable ability in their oral answers, are asked more difficult questions than others in the class, and marked according to answers given. This plan has seemed to me to require less time than the topical method, and to be equally satisfactory in obtaining a knowledge of the proficiency of the different applicants.

The average figure for all the applicants examined last year was 2½. This year it is a fraction better, about 2¼. The examinations were closer this year than last. A number of applicants were refused certificates last year, and all were given to understand that unless their qualifications reached a certain standard it would be useless to apply. This has, no doubt, had the effect of improving the qualifications of some of the applicants this year.

There were 78 female teachers employed last year; this year there has been 81 employed. The difference is too slight to make any marked change in the result.

Seven Districts have summer as well as winter schools. Of these, but three districts will have a portion of their schools open until August, probably not more than ten schools in all. There is little doubt but that nearly all these schools might be opened at such times as would permit them to be continued on during the winter term under the same teacher; and if so, it would be a decided advantage to the schools.

We have but two townships—Darlington and Big Beaver—in which a part of the teachers "board round," and in these, no doubt, the practice will soon be discontinued. Teachers thus situated have but little opportunity for that daily preparation which adds so much to the teacher's efficiency.

The Directors in the townships mentioned, estimate the price of boarding received by the teachers at $2 per week.

The Central County Institute was not held during the year, but in its stead Teachers' meetings were held in three different parts of the county. The aggregate attendance at the three meetings was much larger than we ever had at a single county meeting. More life and interest were manifested, and many more of the directors and citizens were enabled to attend.

There is no evidence at present that the troubles in our country will seriously affect the educational interests in this county. I have not heard of any proposition to shorten the school term in any district. Besides, a number of new school buildings are already contracted for, the average cost of which will be more than the amount paid in past years.

It is thought by many of our Directors that if the number of Directors in each district, were reduced to three, and they receive some compensation for the time necessarily employed in attending to school duties, it would be an improvement on the present plan. This change in the present school law is respectfully submitted to the School Department.

During the year I have written 130 official letters, have traveled 1988 miles, and have been engaged 241 days in the discharge of official duty.

Again I tender my thanks to the editors, directors, teachers and citizens of the county for the many favors received at their hands.

Noble Old Keystone.

The State of Pennsylvania has acted nobly in this contest for the salvation of the Union. She has proved her title to the claim of being the Keystone of the arch of our glorious Union. Every day for the last week, has two regiments of her stalwart sons passed through our city on their way to the seat of war, and each day for several days to come, we learn, arrangements have been made for as many more. Within the period designated, 20,000 men will have arrived by the Northern Central Railroad from Camp Curtin alone, all except the first one which arrived, armed and equipped complete, and we notice by the correspondence from the headquarters of the army of Virginia, that they are arriving there, and taking their places in the grand army.—These are in addition to others which have arrived by other routes from the same State; and we notice them particularly; as from our position, we are enabled to see them both early and late, passing by our door; and we can truly say a better class of men cannot be found than they, and they will no doubt add to the high reputation which their State has attained in almost every battle-field since the war commenced. The sons of no State of the Union have displayed more bravery, and been found more reliable in every action in which they were engaged, (and they are found in almost every one, from Virginia to the far Southwest,) than those of the gallant old Keystone State. All honor to her and to her patriotic Governor, who has labored with the utmost efficiency and success in preparing her sons for the grand battle for our liberties.—Baltimore Clipper.

GOOD.—Major W. C. Morgan, of the Kentucky cavalry, has a short way of dealing with the rebels around Eminence, Kentucky, where he is stationed. He is ordered to levy on "secesh" horses for the army. The "secesh," in anticipation, run them off. The Major finds it out, and goes and takes two or three slaves as security for the return of the horses. The horses always come back. He finds the remedy an excellent one, infallible and of speedy operation.—Indianapolis Journal.

Vol. 38--No. 36. Beaver, Wednesday, September 3, 1862. Established 1818.

ADDRESS

Of the Union State Central Committee to the Loyal Men of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26, '62.

FELLOW CITIZENS: In times of war the political organizations of peace are surrendered or postponed to the public emergencies. During the Revolutionary war there was no party against Washington but the Tories or the traitors. During the war of 1812, the enemies of the Administration of Mr. Madison soon became as infamous as the foreign invaders themselves.—The war with Mexico was waged, as results have proved, by slaveholding statesmen, in order that one State more might be added to the number they have lately forced into treason; yet the public man who opposed it soon became unpopular, and its victorious general was nominated for the Presidency by the very party that dissented from the policy which resulted in the war. These are the eloquent teachings of the past. We are now in a death struggle with the most powerful foe to human liberty on earth. This enemy is strengthened by slavery in America and sustained by the monarchies of the Old World. The issue is clearly made—the contending parties openly arrayed against each other. There is not a nation, an individual, or an idea opposed to human freedom that is not enlisted against this Government and in favor of the rebellion. We are ourselves our only friends. Within our selves is our only hope. We can have no sympathy from any other Power in the world—no sympathy that is sincere and effectual. The State Central Committee, appointed by the Union Sate Convention, composed of the loyal men of Pennsylvania, who met to consider what was proper to be done in this crisis, have a simple duty to perform in this their first address. They have only to ask whether the example of the two wars with Great Britain, and the admonitions of the war with Mexico, shall be recollected or rejected in this gloomy hour, and whether the American people will cordially support the Government in putting down the rebellion.

The State Central Committee would impress upon the people of Pensylvania that the one great subject for them to consider is the danger to the Republic. There is no prejudice or opinion that should not be postponed and, if necessary, sacrificed, to save this common peril. The Convention from which the committee derived its authority acted in this spirit, and it is now your duty to come forward and sustain the candidates that Convention placed in nomination. We make this appeal to all loyal men. They only are loyal who recognize this war as one waged for our national existence—who give an ardent unquestioning support to the Administration—who sustain all the measures of Congress for the maintenance of the war-making power—who see in the Southern Confederacy, and those who are in alliance with it, the enemies of Civilization and Liberty—and who do nothing to weaken the hands of the Executive. They are not merely disloyal who take arms in their hands, and combine themselves into an army.—He is a rebel who abjures his allegiance and becomes an enemy to his flag; but he is a traitor, who, while enjoying the protection of the Government, and ostensibly observing his pledge of allegiance, contrives to bring dishonor and defeat upon his country. These rebels and these traitors we are called upon to meet. We must encounter them on the battle-field and at the ballot-box. The ballot-box is the great source of popular power.—If beaten there, our victories will be fruitless, our sufferings unrewarded, our sacrifices barren, and the glory and valor of our soldiers will end in the triumph of the Southern rebellion and a dishonorable peace.

It is unnecessary to restate the causes of the war. Our opponents have made them the substance of calumny and misrepresentation. For answer, we appeal to to the living history familiar to all men. We need not remind the people that at the basis of the Southern rebellion there exists a hatred of Northern men and Northern institutions—of our social, political and revenue system. This has inspired their leaders during two generations. Wedded to an institution which has demoralized them in demoralizing their labor, and cultivating the earth by an enslaved race of men, they have made their slaves the source of their political power, and have ruled the nation with the products of slave labor. The happy hours of our national progress have for years been embittered by their insolence. All legislation that looked to the prosperity of the Northern States and protection to their industry has been oppressed and defeated by them. With the growth of Northern strength, as the result of free institutions and free toil, came the possession of political power and the gradual resistance to the encroachments of slavery. Nor need we remind the people of the outrages that followed the efforts of the slaveholders to recover their unholy and despotic dominion. The outrages upon; the studied insults to Northern Senators and Representatives; the ceaseless abuse of the Northern people, and the gradual concentration of the military and naval power in the hands of the traitors, all contemplated the restoration of their ascendency, and enabled them to inaugurate the treason which culminated in war.—Strengthened by a wicked Administration, and sustained by timid and treacherous public men in the free States, they were permitted to organize an armed resistance, and to make fearful advances, before the Government could strike a blow in its own defence.

The election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency, so fortunate for the country, and so fruitful of saving consequences to the whole people, baffled the immediate purposes of the conspirators.

The adversaries of Mr. Lincoln's Administration are in nearly every case the adversaries of the Government.—They attack the one to weaken the other. We recognize in the Executive the embodiment of that authority which can alone destroy the rebellion and rescue the Republic. If the Executive arm is paralyzed, there can be neither unity among the people, victory for our armies, nor hope for the preservation of the Government.

While the enemies of the war propose adhering the form of a mere party organization, the loyal men have yielded their preference and systems, content to defer to the days of peace the revival of disputes which can only be repeated now to the injury of the common cause.

Let the people decide whether that interest is deserving of confidence which, in the midst of war, refuses to abandon the prejudices of party strife, and in the midst of national peril devotes itself to the work of dividing the people.

The opponents of the war are more anxious to prove their hatred to a party than to the public enemy. They insist that the "demon Abolition" is the most dangerous foe of the public peace. We can see but one great criminal—but one great enemy of the Republic—and he is now in arms against our country men and brothers. To defeat him at once and forever is our first and most imperative duty.

The adversaries of the war insist that they contend for the Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is.—We, too, are for the Union as it was; but not for the return of the armed associates of the [illegible] with treason to the places they so long occupied and so basely deserted. And while we renew our fealty to the Constitution as it is we [illegible] opponents of the war so steadily ignore, viz: "The enforcement of the laws," whether these laws are for the confiscation of all rebel property, the emancipation of all slaves who aid to defend the flag of the Union, or the punishment of the reckless partisans in the adhering States who aid and comfort the rebel army, demoralize the people, and paralyze the arm of the Executive.

If, in a word, we have sympathy to bestow it is not for the murderers of our country's liberties, but for the defenders of those liberties. The gallant soldier teaches us by the example to persevere in devotion to our country. He offers his life to the Republic with uncomplaining spirit, reposes full confidence in his superiors, sustains the Government of the United States and sees but one antagonist before him—the rebel who strikes at his own heart and at the Union of these States. We should be unworthy of the advantages of peace and of home if we did not strive to imitate at the ballot-box an example so freely set before us by our fellow citizens on the battle-field.

In the fulfilment of the grave duties, we invoke to the standard of our countrymen of every class and opinion. We scorn the baseness that invokes party hate or popular prejudice. When we behold the adopted and the native citizen, the Democrat and the Republican fighting side by side in the army, we are inspired by the lesson to do likewise in the quiet walks of civil life.

Loyal men of Pennsylvania, it is for you to determine between the friends of the Government and the war, and the opponents of both. It is for you to declare for the sympathizers with freedom or the sympathizers with slavery and the rebellion. It is for you to decide whether you will strengthen Abraham Lincoln or Jefferson Davis. It is for you to say whether the traitors shall be crushed or whether our free institutions shall be crushed. There is, and there can be, no middle pathway. There are, indeed, but two parties—patriots or traitors—those who are for the Union and those who are against it. And all men who are not openly for the Republic must be counted among its enemies.

It is a fact that you cannot too carefully ponder, that the leaders of the opposition to the Government in this State are the same, with discreditable exceptions, who encouraged the policy which encouraged the traitors to commence the rebellion. Their whole effort since the war began has been to divide to people of the loyal States.—They announced, early in 1861, that Pennsylvania should join the South in the event of a separation, and this is their secret hope to-day. They would have held the hands of the Government that the rebels might strike at its heart, and would have succeeded but for the prompt courage of President Lincoln. They followed the fortunes of General Breckinridge up to the period of his desertion into the ranks of the rebels. They repeat his arguments in this their country's darkest hour. Their plea for the Constitution was his plea before he drew his sword against it. They clamor, as he clamored, against the Abolitionists. They deplore emancipation, even while they deny that the most effective emancipationists are the slave holders themselves. They bewail confiscation acts, while Jefferson Davis sequestrates the property of all loyal men in the South. And, as if to complete the parallel, and to show how sincerely they love the traitors, even as they pretend to despise the treason, they see our brave men perishing on the battle-field and in hospital, from the disease of the swamps and the bullets of the foe, and discourage elistments in order that they may be relieved; and while prating of a negro exodus into the free States, to terrify our laboring whites, denounce the employment of the escaped colored men of the South to lighten the burdens and lessen labors of the white defenders of the flag!

We address you, loyal brothers and friends in the earnest hope that you will not desert your country in this momentous crisis. We feel that we have the right of this great argument. We are supported by the hope that all good men are with us. Everywhere, in the free States, the same organization for which we speak is supported by citizens without reference to former party distinctions. The Republicans have come forward to give this organization their sanction. The most distinguished and orthodox Democrats have joined the ranks of the great army of loyal men, and from every battle-field our brave soldiers send us words of approval and thanks. In Pennsylvania, the great People's party have enrolled themselves in this mighty movement. Shall it fail? Will you permit a few discontented leaders, the relics of a debased and guilty Administration, who are, in fact, more responsible for the war than any other class but the rebels themselves, to sway you from your obligation to your country? This cannot be—this must not be.

Every inducement invokes us to consolidate and co-operate. The comfort and necessities of our fellow-citizens in the field of war—the support of our patriotic President and fearless Governor, that they may fulfil their great trusts efficiently—and the threatening assault of foreign Powers—call fore the one absorbing duty of the hour.

The nominees of the loyal men of Pennsylvania for State officers, Hon. Thomas E. Cochran, of York county, for Auditor General, and Hon. W. S. Ross, of Luzerne, for Surveyor General, deserve your united and ardent support. Mr. Cochran has served with great credit to himself and advantage to the State for the last three years in the position for which he is again presented. He is known and esteemed for his pure personal and upright public character, and his high abilities and extended experience are additional assurance that he is worthy of the sufferings of the friends of the Government. General Ross has belonged to the Democratic party, and is one of that large and influential body of men who have forever broken the shackles of the slave power, and who see in the present troubles the opportunity to prove their independence of of those treacherous leaders who during these trying times, degrade the name of Democracy by using it as a cloak for sympathy with treason.—Beloved at his own home, and in a long course of public service having earned the confidence of the people and gathered a valuable experience, he is eminently fitted for the trust that has been conferred upon him.

To elect these gentlemen, will require the concerted and cordial co-operation of the loyal citizens of the State. It would be most culpable if, with every other advantage, we should fail to win a great victory in October for want of an effective and extended organization; or if we should, by dissensions among ourselves, on minor issues, give the victory to our adversaries. The duty of securing a strong and able representation in Congress, to sustain the President in its noble war policy, and defeat the candidates of the Breckinridge sympathizers, is paramount and binding. Let us not forget that we have also to elect a Legislature that is to choose a United States Senator, and that in every county important officers are to be elected. If we act up to the call and to the counsel of the State Convention from which we derive our authority, we shall achieve a great and lasting triumph. In this struggle it is the duty of all men to forego personal preferences for the common cause; and he who shall refuse to respond to this sentiment is unequal to the awful responsibilities of the times. To accomplish complete unity, and to prepare for a successful result it is advisable that the loyal men should meet together in their respective wards and districts frequently. These are the fountains not only of all power, but, in this emergency, of all patriotic purpose and popular enlightenment. Armed with the weapons of truth and of love of country, and strong in the sense of a perfect understanding among ourselves, we can defeat all the hosts of our adversaries, and encourage our public servants in council and our gallant brothers in the field of battle.

GOOD TIMES.—We have a letter from a Paterson boy belonging to Wilson's Zouaves at Fort Pickens, or rather (now) at Pensacola. He says they are sleeping in luxurious spring beds and upon pillows of the softest down, upon which the fair daughters of Secessia have been wont to close their languid eyes. The Zoo-zoos lounge upon carved sofas, survey themselves through splendid mirrors, and revel in the rich libraries for "books to read." They stroll upon verandahs and pluck oranges and lemons in gardens scented by magnolias and oliandars. A plenty of stray chickens, geese, ducks, pigs, &c., yet remain, and fresh beef in abundance. Verily, the Zoo-zoos are in clover, and we are glad to hear it.—Paterson Guardian.

ONE WAY TO RECRUIT.—At a recruiting meeting in Western New York last week, one of the speakers had been urging the men to sign the roll, and told the women to hurry them up, when a woman rose in the meeting and addressed her husband substantially as follows:—

"Ira, you know what you said before you came here to-night—that you would enlist. If you don't do it, go straight home and take off those breeches, and let me have them and I will go myself!" This brought down the house and brought up Ira, who became a volunteer.

AN OLD CHICKEN.—In attempting to carve a fowl one day, a gentleman found considerable difficulty in separating its joints, and exclaimed against the man who sold him an old hen for a young chicken.

"My dear," said the enraged man's wife, "don't talk so much about the aged and respectable Mr. B., he planted the first hill of corn that was planted in our town."

"I know that," said her husband, "and I believe this hen scratched it up."

☞ "If I should be drafted into the service, what would you do?" said a gentleman to his wife, lately. "Get a substitute for you, I suppose," whereupon the worst half changed the subject of conversation.

☞ One man who called upon the examining physician in Hartford to procure a certificate of disability for service, took a friend with him who swore that the former was "a hundred and forty-eight years old, shure."

Dr. Brownson with the President.

Dr. O. A. Brownson, the eminent Catholic, and editor of Brownson's Review had an interesting conference with the President on Saturday. The question of Emancipation and Colonization were discussed at length. Dr. Brownson agreed with the President on the subject of Colonization, but urged Emancipation as a means of saving the country, and as a step which must be taken before Colonization on a large scale could become practicable.

The talk of the President was in a hopeful strain. He said that he was not fully persuaded that it was yet time to proclaim Emancipation, but Dr. Brownson infers from the tenor of his remarks, that it the next battle in Virginia results in a decided victory for our arms, a proclamation emancipating the slaves of Rebels in North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisana, Texas, and Arkansas, will be forthwith issued.

As he was leaving the room Dr. Brownson asked the President if he could give him any definite expression of opinion in regard to the time when Emancipation would be proclaimed, upon which the President took up a newspaper and read from it his letter to Mr. Greely.

A HERO INDEED.—Among the Pennsylvania Volunteers in prison at Richmond, recently were Sergeant Geo. Bowman and —— Herr. Of those recently paroled to be sent within our line was Sergeant Bowman.—Mr. Herr was very sick, and his comrades feared that if he staid in the military prison much longer he would not get home alive. He was not paroled; but when Bowman's name was called out, he pushed young Herr towards the ambulance, and exclaimed —"Herr he is!" The rebel officer however, discerning the ruse, refused to let Herr go, and insisted that Bowman should. The latter earnestly remonstrated, and the officer finally touched by his generous conduct, consented that Herr should go, and he accordingly came down to our camp in Lieut Col. M'Intyre's party. We need not add that such noble self-sacrificing conduct stamps its author as a soldier of the very highest order, and as a man of the noblest impulses.

MUZZLING THE REBEL PRESS.—Gen. Van Dorn has issued a general order, (No. 9,) in which occurs the following section:

"[illegible] of any article in movements of the troops is prohibited, and if the editor or proprietor of any newspaper published in any of the counties herein before designated, shall publish any editorial article, or copy into his paper any article or paragraph calculated to impair confidence in any of the commanding officers whom the President may see fit to place over the troops, such editor or proprietor shall be subject to fine and imprisonment, and the publication of the newspaper shall be thereafter suspended."

☞ "Well, what next?" said Mrs. Partington, as she interrupted Ike, who was reading the war news—"the pickets were driven in five miles?—Bless my poor soul, but that will make a strong fence. I suppose they had to be driven in deep, to keep the the secessionaders from digging out under them."

☞ Anxious Father—What am I to do with you, sir—what am I to do with you? Do you know, if you continue your present course of cruelty and cowardice, you will be fit for nothing but a member of Congress?

Distracted Mother—O, don't say that father! don't father, you will humble the boy!

☞ A gentleman said to one of his sons, who used to stay late in bed every morning—"Your brother got up this morning at five o'clock, and found on the sidewalk a purse of gold."—"Very well," replied the lazy young man; "if the poor fellow to whom it belongs had remained in bed till ten o'clock he probably would not have lost it."

☞ Do those editors who have so much to say about the expenses of the war, desire that the independence of the rebel Confederacy shall be acknowledged by our Government because the war is costly? If so, why don't they speak out?

☞ A sixty-nine pound shell burst near an Irishman in one of the trenches. Pat cooly surveyed the ruins the fragments had made, and exclaimed, "Be jabers! thim's the fellows to soften the wax in a man's ear!"

☞ Somebody says that the oddest husbandry he knows of is the marrying of a widow in clover with a widow in weeds.

☞ "Do you know who built the bridge?" said a person to Hook.

☞ Women first resorted to tight lacing to prove to men how well they could bear the squeezing.

☞ We know little of the literature of Tunis or Algiers, but there are a great many fine books in Morocco.

Departure of Troops.

On Monday morning three companies of infantry, which have been raised in our county and encamped in the Fair Grounds, having received [illegible] having been announced on Sabbath day, in the different churches, that our brave boys, in the event of their arrival at Camp Howe, would experience some delay in procuring rations for the first day, the citizens of Beaver and the neighboring villages immediately set about preparing something for them, and at an early hour a large amount of substantial provisions was deposited at the Court House for their use. On Sabbath evening Rev. (now Captain) Ormand delivered an impressive sermon to the volunteers in the U. P. Church of Beaver.

Early on Monday morning our streets began to be thronged with the soldiers, their friends and relatives, all eager to say farewell to the brave ones who, taking their lives in their hands, were going forth to battle for our country. The roll of the drum and shrill whistle of the fife soon collected the soldiers at the point of rendezvous, where, after very little delay, the companies were soon formed into line and took up their departure for the cars at Rochester.

While at Rochester the order to go into Camp Howe was countermanded, and a despatch received ordering them to report at Camp Curtin. The companies remained in Pittsburg until 9 o'clock in the evening, when they started for Harrisburg.

Captain Donehoo's Cavalry company, recruited in this vicinity, left yesterday for Harrisburg. They are a splendid body of men and reflect great credit on their officers. We hope to hear a good account from all our men.

The companies are officered as follows:

R. H. Baker Guards: Captain, Richard P. Roberts: 1st Lieut., John D. Stokes; 2d Lieut., Thos. Henry.

Irwin Cavalry: Captain, D. M. Donehoo; 1st Lieut., J. Q. Anderson; 2d Lieut., John Swaney.

NOMINATION OF HON. J. W. WALLACE.—The Conferees of this district, embracing the counties of Lawrence, Beaver, Washington and Greene, met on the 28th ult., at the Monongahela House in Pittsburg, and unanimously nominated Hon. J. W. Wallace, our present able and worthy member, for re-election. He will be elected without doubt.

Colonel Quay.

We mentioned last week that M. S. Quay, Esq., of this place, so long and favorably kown in this community, had been commissioned Colonel of the 134th Regiment, which is now in the service, camped upon Arlington Heights. It is useless to say anything in commendation of his character as a first class business man, or a brave and competent officer. He has filled several important positions with marked ability, being twice chosen by the people of Beaver county as their Prothonotary. Upon the breaking out of the rebellion he resigned his office, assisted in raising a company, in which he served as First Lieutenant. He was then appointed Assistant Commissary General of the State, afterwards private Secretary to the Governor, and now, when duty calls, he resigns that position and enters again into active service. We can, therefore, congratulate the 134th upon their choice of a Colonel, feeling assured that if an opportunity is offered that they can confidently repose their trust in the skill and bravery of their leader in the hour of fierce conflict upon the battle field. Upon his taking command of the Regiment he was presented with a magnificent uniform, sword, and other accoutrements, by General W. W. Irwin. Surely the General could not have bestowed the handsome and valuable present upon one more deserving. They had long been connected in business and official relations, and it is only a mark of respect toward Col. Quay which he merited in the affections of Gen. Irwin. We predict for the Colonel a briliant career as an officer. May he live to pass through the hardships of war, distinguish himself in the service of his country, return to the enjoyment of the society of his numerous friends and spend a good old age when the rebellion shall have passed away.

Sword Presentation.

On Friday evening the 29th ult., a sword was presented to Captain James Darragh of Sharon, who left on Monday morning with his company for Camp Curtin. The exercises took place in the M. E. Church in Bridgewater. The presentation speech was made by Rev. J. S. Bracken, and is represented to have been a very happy effort. Capt. Darragh is a gallant fellow, and has a splendid company, which will no doubt do good service in our country's cause. On Saturday 1st Lieut. Wm. McCallister of the same company received a handsome sword from his late employer, Capt. [illegible].

Two more swords were also presented to Capt. Donehoo and Lieut. Anderson, of the Irwin Cavalry.—They were presented in the Presbyterian Church in Beaver—the former by Rev. Cunningham and the latter by Rev. Dr. McLean. Several other speeches were made, and every thing passed off pleasantly.

RECRUITING FOR THE OLD REGIMENTS.—We learn that Capt. M. R. Adams of Co. F, 10th Regiment Pennsylvania Reserves, has opened a recruiting office in Rochester. No better officer need one want to go with than Captain Adams. He has been tried, and proved himself a brave and efficient officer, and besides this he is an accomplished gentlemen in every sense of the word, and treats his soldiers as MEN. Capt. Adams will enlist men for any old Pennsylvania Regiment now in the field.

☞ David Sankey, Esq., of Lawrence county, has been appointed Collector for this district, and Samuel Davenport of Beaver, Assessor.

Agricultural Notice.

The Board of managers of the Beaver County Agricultural Society met at the Office of the Secretary on Saturday the 30th inst. Members present: J. C. Wilson, President, Briggs, Boden, Wolf, Anderson, Goehring, Brittain, Stewart, Leaf and Noss.

After some considerable discussion upon the subject, it was unanimously agreed that the Society hold their Annual Fair this fall as usual.

The following resolution was then passed by the Managers, viz:

Resolved, That in consideration of the distracted state of our Country at this time, we consider it inexpedient to have horse racing at our Agricultural Fair this Fall, therefore the premiums of $100, $50 and $25 be discontinued at this time.

By order of Board of Managers.

A. G. McCREARY, Sec'y.

Beaver, Aug. 30, 1862.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1.—Lexington, Ky., was evacuated this afternoon, our troops falling back on Covington.—All the stores were removed to Louisville. At seven to-night the Lexington operator closed his office, saying that Kirby Smith had appeared in the suburbs and demanded the surrender of the city which was complied with by the citizens.

There is a good deal of excitement here, at (Cincinnati,) but preparations are making for defense. Gen. Lew Wallace has assumed command of the troops. Regiments are arriving and are en route.

Gen. Corcoran's Enlistment.

To show how Gen. Corcoran endured his imprisonment from the first to the last, we reproduce the following paragraph, published by the Richmond Dispatch shortly after the Bull Run disaster:

"We hear of but one account, with few exceptions, from all the prisoners taken by our men everywhere, and that is that they came without any intention of fighting the South, but were compelled to unite in the invading movement, and that if they were home they would never be caught in such a scrape again. The last assertion may be true, but not a word of the rest. The circumstances under which they left the North are known to the South as well as to themselves; and their very name and organization, volunteers, contradict every word they utter. We confess we have more respect for the most impudent among them. Col. Corcoran, for example, who, we understand, says: "I went into the business with my whole soul, and I wouldn't take my parole if they'd give it to me."

WHEREAS, the exigencies of our National affairs have rendered it imperatively necessary for the Government to put forth its mightiest efforts for the speedy and complete overthrow of the gigantic rebellion now raging in our country: and whereas, the President of the United States has deemed it advisable to call out an additional force of 600,000 men; and whereas, our County Commissioners, in a spirit[illegible] patriotism and liberality, have offered a bounty to those of our citizens, who are now responding so promptly and nobly to the calls of duty, and rallying so enthusiastically to the rescue of our imperiled country and its cherished and beneficent institutions. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Beaver County, now in County Meeting assembled, do hereby heartily endorse and ratify the action of the Commissioners in offering a liberal bounty to those among us who are now springing to arms with an alacrity unparalled, and manifesting a heroic disposition to lay down their lives, if need be, in defence of the rights, liberties and franchises of our Nation; feeling assured that the State Legislature will cheerfully and unhesitatingly legalize any action, or any expenditure which may be made in furtherance of so praise-worthy and patriotic object.

Resolved, That this meeting respectfully recommend to our County Commissioners the propriety of offering and paying a bounty to every citizen of this County volunteering in any Regiment, either belonging to this, or any other State, provided such volunteer is duly credited to our County, and made part of the quota which we will be called upon to make up.

Drafting in Pennsylvania.

To the Editor of the Philadelphia Press: Can any of your numerous subscribers—and I feel assured that some among the many thousand daily readers of The Press must know—inform me on two very important points in regard to drafting, the time for which is slowly but certainly approaching. I wish to know if those men who are drafted will be ruled by men appointed their officers, or will they be granted the privilege of selecting their own officers from among themselves? And further, when a man is drafted, will he have to go into a new or old regiment, just where he is put, or may he express a preference, with any hope of his wishes being respected? By answering these inquries, you will know confer a great favor on many, and one who may be DRAFTED.

1. Under the existing laws, drafted men, when formed into regiments, elect their line officers, i. e. captains and lieutenants, from among themselves, but the Governor reserves the right to commission such persons.—The field and staff officers are chosen by the Governor and commissioned by him.

2. Drafted men have no rights whatever. The Government can, at pleasure, form them into new regments or put them here and there about in old regiments now in the field, and, in the last war, a doctor of divinity fought at New Orleans between a negro and a German street-scavenger, it is said.—ED. PRESS.

ALEXANDRIA, August 28.—A gentleman who arrived here to-night reports that Gen. Taylor, in the engagement yesterday, was so severely wounded that he may have to submit to an amputation of the right leg. This morning, about half past eight o'clock, Stewart's rebel cavalry made a dash through Fairfax Court House on their way to Vienna, which is about thirteen miles from Washington.

The Union people of that section have all fled to the latter city. A fight was going on to day, it is reported, at Manassas.

Heintzleman, from Pope's advance, had it is rumored, got in Jackon's rear. He is supported to have a force of 20,000. The firing was heard distinctly at Alexandria.

MANASSAS JUNCTION, August 28, 10 p. m.—To Major General Halleck Commander-in-Chief.—As soon as I discovered that a large force of the enemy was turning our right towards Manassas, and that the division I had ordered to take post there two days before, had not yet arrived, there from Alexander immediately broke up my camp at Warrenton Junction and Warrenton and marched rapidly back in three columns. I directed M'Dowell with his own and Sigel's corps and Reno's Division to march upon Gainsville by the Warrenton and Alexandria pike. Reno and one division of Heintzleman's was to march on Greenwich, and with Porter's corps and Hooker's division, I marched back to Manassas Junction. M'Dowell was ordered to interpose between the force of the enemy, which had passed down Manassas through Gainsville, and his main body, moved down from White Plains through Thoroughfares Gap. This was completely accomplished—Longstreet, who had passed thro' the Gap, having been driven back to the west side.

The forces sent to Greenwich were designed to support McDowell in case he met too large a force of the enemy. The division of Hooker, in marching towards Manassas, came upon the enemy near Kettle Run, on the afternoon of the 27th, and after a sharp action routed them completely killing and wounding three hundred, and capturing their camps and baggage, and many stands of arms.

This morning the command pushed rapidly to Manassas Junction, which Jackson had evacuated three hours in advance. He retreated via Centreville, and took the turnpike toward Warrenton. He was met when six miles west of Centreville by the forces under Generals M'Dowell and Sigel. Late this afternoon a severe fight took place which has been terminated by the darkness.

The enemy was driven back at all points, and thus the affair rests—Heintzleman's corps will move on him at daylight from Centreville, and I do not see how he is to escape without heavy loss.

We have captured a thousand prisoners, many arms, and one piece of artillery.

JOHN POPE Maj. Gen.

HEADQUARTERS FIELD OF BATTLE-GROVETON, near Gainsville, August 30—Washington: Halleck, General in Chief. We fought a battle yesterday with the combined forces of the enemy, which lasted with continuous fury from daylight until after dark, by which time the enemy was driven from the field which we now occupy.

Our troops are too much exhausted yet to push matters, but I shall do it in the course of the morning, as soon as Fitz John Porter's corps come up from Manassas. The enemy are still on our front but they are badly used up.

We have not lost less than eight thousand men in killed and wounded, and from the appearance of the field the enemy's loss is at least two to our one.

He stood strictly on the defensive, and every assault was made by ourselves. Our troops behaved splendidly.

The battle was fought on the identical battle field of Bull Run, which fact greatly increased the enthusiasm of our men.

The news just reaches me from the front that the enemy is retreating towards the Mountains. I go forward at once to see.

We have made great captures, but I am not able yet to form an idea of their extent.

JOHN POPE, Maj. Gen.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Information has reached Washington from private cources that Gen. Pope came up with and attacked the enemy again shortly after nine o'clock this morning. Fitz John Porter had probably by that time arrived on the field from Manassas, which was only seven miles distant. The cannonading was distinctly heard in Washington to day.

The railroad was regularly run this morning from the town of Warrenton to Bristow; so it is already clear that the only damage remaining to be repaired to the railroad is to rebuild the Bull Run and Rappahannock bridges. The former should be completed to-night, and the latter may be in four or five days.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The rebels were heavily reinforced yesterday, and attacked Pope's army before the arrival of Generals Franklin and Sumner. The attack was boldly met, and a severe battle followed. The advantage on the whole was on the side of the enemy. Pope fell back to Centerville with his whole army in good order. He has now been joined at Centerville by Gen. Franklin, and Sumner was on the march to him last night. He occupies the strongest position in the vicinity of Washington, and is expected promptly to renew the contest and the successes of Friday. Every effort should be used to hasten the forwarding of our troops.

☞ Col. Fletcher Webster of the 12th Massachusetts regiment, was mortally wounded in the battle of Saturday and has since died.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—A special in to-day's Press, dated near Centreville, August 31st, 6 P. M. says: Last evening about five o'clock, McDowell's left flank was turned, it is said, by a body of rebel cavalry, supposed to be five thousand strong. McDowell's corps being on the left of our army at the time, and the rebel cavalry being supported by infantry, McDowell's corps was almost instantly swept away.

The charge was fearful. Our officers say that it exceeded in fierce impetuosity anything they ever saw, or heard, or read of in history. This morning there was a report, how true I know not, that the ground lost by this charge has been regained. This is improbable.

The enemy, according to the reports of prisoners who have been taken, and seem to be intelligent, has recently been reinforced enormously, and now includes the entire rebel army in the State of Virginia. The prisoners even go so far as to say that according to what they have heard, the rebel army of Virginia numbers about 250,000 men.

They occupy the outer extremity of the old Bull Run battle field at present—their front being at the farthest point of the old field. They hold their rifle pits which were dug on the memorable 21st of July, 1861. They are bold and impudent. What their intention is cannot be known to any but themselves.

I am gratified to announce that our army was reinforced at noon to-day by at least sixty thousand of the most effective men we have in the field.

It was the opinion of leading army officers yesterday on the field, that we shall be very fortunate if we can whip Jackson Longstreet, Anderson and the other rebel leaders, without surrounding them.

Eight Hundred prisoners were sent forward from this point this morning to Alexandria. This makes 1500 that have been forwarded to Washington. The total number of prisoners captured by us is very heavy.

A very intelligent prisoner, a commissioned officer, with whom I conversed, told me that Jackson made an address to his army the day before yesterday, in which he urged his men to stand firm and fight to the last, for if they were beaten then and there all hope for the successful establishment of the Southern Confederacy was lost.

This man also reports that in Friday's battle, Jackson made a very narrow escape from capture.

Persons supposed to be well informed, say that we have taken at least seventeen thousand prisoners from the enemy in all the engagements, but many were paroled on the spot and sent back.

Gen. Schenck went to Washington last evening. He is severally wounded in the left arm, and it is feared that he will lose the limb. His Division was in Sigel's corps. The brigades of Gens Stahl and Gen. McLane were driven in by Jackson's men but were rallying when Gen Schenck left.

Gen. Ernest Von Steinwehr's and Gen Carl Schurz's divisions drove the enemy back handsomely upon several occasions, at the point of the bayonet. Schurz's division is badly cut up.

Gen. Milroy's independent brigade suffered severely. They fought well, dropping the rebels like ripe fruit.

This afternoon our whole army is massed ten miles south of Centerville, beyond Bull Run, and notwithstanding that the rebel army has received such great reinforcements, we are driving the enemy at every point, and victory, sooner or later, is considered certain.

Jackson will certainly be driven into the mountains. He cannot pass through Thoroughfare Gap again, for Heintzelman is guarding the road, and he cannot break through that brave corps, especially with our guard armies at his heels.

E.

ST. PAUL, August 28.—There were ten whites killed and fifty-one wounded at the New Ulm fight on Saturday. The Indians fought bravely and recklessly. Their loss was considerable. On Sunday our small force under Maj. Flandrew, fearing that they could not stand an attack, withdrew from Mankato leaving the town at the mercy of the Indians. It is reported that between four hundred and one thousand Indians were in the fight. Col. Sibley's command probably reached Fort Ridgely yesterday. The Adjutant General, of Minnesota has issued an order to the commanding officer to seize all the horses and means of transportation necessary, giving a receipt to the owners. The massacre does not seem to be confined to one locality, but is spread over a vast amount territory. It is reported that but of forty-five families, all but two persons were killed, at Lake Shetk, sixty miles southwest of New Ulm, but these reports are undoubtedly exaggerated. Many persons having fled or secreted themselves, are probably supposed to be killed.

HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 31, 1862

To Major General Halleck, General in Chief: General—The following despatch is from Bolivar, Tennessee: Col. Hogg, in command of the 20th and 25th Ohio infantry and some cavalry, was attacked by about 4,000 rebels yesterday. Our troops behaved well, driving back the enemy, whose loss was over one hundred. Our loss is only twenty men killed and wounded—Col. Hogg being one of the number.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT,
Major General Commanding.

CAIRO, August 31.—Dispatches have been received at headquarters here announcing that the rebels are marching on Fort Donelson, with the purpose of attacking. Their number is not known.

Memphis advices say that on the 25th Colonel Wood attacked three thousand rebels at Bolivar, completely routing them after a short engagement. Our loss was one killed; that of the rebels not stated.

LOUISVILLE, September 1.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held this morning at the Court House. Hon. James Guthrie presided. Several spirited and patriotic speeches were made and resolutions passed.

A resolution was adopted that the Mayor issue his proclamation calling on all male citizens to arm and be ready to meet the enemy in case they should attack us.

The meeting adjourned to meet again as soon as the Mayor issued his proclamation.

The Legislature adjourned at Frankfort and removed to the city. Robinson and many members are here now. It is said the Legislature will convene at the Court House to-morrow. The citizens are very much excited.

It is rumored that Lexington has been abandoned by the Federals, that a force of twenty or thirty thousand rebels are near that place. The report is not reliable.

The public archives were removed from Frankfort, and one million treasury from banks at Richmond, Lexington and Frankfort arrived to-day.

Gen. John W. Finnell, Adjutant General of Kentucky, established his headquarters in Louisville. The city is in a blaze of excitement to-night. Citizens are enrolling themselves, and making great preparations.

LIBERALITY OF PHYSICIANS.—It has always been said that physicians would disparage any remedy, however valuable, which they did not originate themselves. This has been disproved by their liberal course towards Dr. J. C. Ayer's preparation. They have adopted them into general use in their practice, which shows a willingness to countenance articles that have intrinsic merits which deserve their attention. This does the learned great credit, and effectually contradicts the prevalent erroneous notion that their opposition to proprietary remedies is based in their interest to discard them. We have always had confidence in the honorable motives of our medical men, and are glad to find it sustained by the liberal welcome they accord to such remedies as Ayer & Co.'s inimitable remedies, even though they are not ordered in the books, but are made known to the people through the newspapers.—New Orleans Delta.

MARRIED—On the 12th ult., by Rev. J. Monroe, Captain JAMES ADAMS, U. S. A., to Miss MARY E. POWELL, of this place.

You cannot put into the Knapsacks of your Husbands and Brothers, a more valuable or more necessary gift than a supply of this EXTRAORDINARY MILITARY SALVE.

The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chill night air, is often seized the most VIOLENT PAINS, COUGHS and SUFFOCATING HOARSNESS, first symptoms of QUICK CONSUMPTION, but if supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, all danger is averted, a few Pills taken night and morning, and the ointment briskly rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the SEVEREST PAINS and stop the most distressing or DANGEROUS COUGH Therefore we say to the whole army,

SOLDIERS ATTENTION!!

See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These PILLS and OINTMENT have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the armies in Europe, and during the CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these GREAT REMEDIES, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of the Soldier in Camp, DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, SCURVY, SORES and SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS, all disappear like a charm before these PILLS AND OINTMENT, and now while the Cry rings throughout the land,

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

Do not let these brave men perish by disease, place in their hands these PRECIOUS REMEDIES, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get succor in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

☞ Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS:

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with these Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BERNFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, Ia., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief, finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of a clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. RAIRS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, 31, D., Agent, Monroe Co., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SIELEY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish, gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood, and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

SELLERS'

LIVER PILLS.

(THE ORIGINAL, ONLY TRUE AND GENUINE)

For 25 Years a Staple Remedy for

LIVER COMPLAINT

AND ALL BILIOUS DISEASES.

The ordinary evidences of Disease of the Liver are Pain and tenderness in the region of the Liver, sometimes dull and aching, increased by pressure, pain and uneasiness in Breathing, Pain in the right Shoulder, uneasiness when lying upon the left side, increased size of the Liver, Short and Dry Cough, disordered stomach, Nausea, Yellowish Tinge on the eyes and skin, Headache, yellowish fur on the tongue, Bitterish taste in the mouth, heavy, dull sensation in the Brain, Depression of Spirits, amounting almost to Insanity, slight Fever toward evening, Loss of Appetite, Melancholy, with moroseness and hypochondria, Neuralgia, dullness, a general feeling of Uneasiness, Languor, drowsiness, the patient conscious of something wrong in himself, and disposed to see nothing right in things about him, yet wholly unable to explain the cause of his sensations—with many others easily detected by resemblances to some one or other of the above. The Liver Pill will almost certainly arrest the disease if taken upon the appearance of the above symptoms, which if allowed to take its course, becomes chronic in its nature and almost incurable, producing great and constantly increasing suffering.

The use of this medicine will neither create a new disease nor complicate an existing one, but, in most cases, will prepare the system for the more vigorous remedies of the physician, should it be necessary to call in his aid.

NOW.

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS GOOD?

The best evidences that they are, is that the most intelligent of our citizens, the firmest friends and best patrons, are those who have used them longest. Dr. B. Hurd, an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the New York State Dental Association, say these preparations have been used in their private practice for years, and by the leading men of Brooklyn or Williamsburgh, with great excellence, while eminent Dentists in New York recommend them as the best in the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle says: "We are happy to know that our friend Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all precedent with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success is, that with the fact that his articles are what they are represented to be, as regards their real merit, they are sold at prices which bring them within the reach of all."

The well-known P. T. Barnum says: "I have found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We need a new supply for the high price we are compelled to pay at the Museum at your convenience." Enclosed find bill.

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acid, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that fairest charm—a sweet breath and pearly pearls of them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will eradicate the putrid matter and impurities, and if used in the morning, before the breakfast table, will render the meal more pleasant. Hundreds can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the two best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and purifying the mouth, leaving the breath sweet as the rose. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder will also whiten the teeth, and leave them in a healthy state.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to the fair sex, and make husbands more agreeable companions and wives to their husbands. They are used by every person who has

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Drops cure toothache arising from exposed nerves, and the best friend that parents can have is one to save their children from torturing themselves from loss of sleep and constant crying.

Farmers and mechanics, you can afford to neglect your teeth. By proper attention you can now get preservatives, which Rothschild or Astor can not obtain for you. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of the teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Fitch's observations on this subject. It is never too late to arrest decay in your own teeth or your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever discovered for this painful disease. The moment they are applied the pain ceases, soon becomes drowsy, then sleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequence ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache they apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia, or to them. They are entirely a novel and original preparation, and wonderful. They are of two sizes, one small for face, price 15 cents, and the other for application to the body, price 37 cents. To be mailed on receipt of price and no more.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute to happiness of those using them, and they won't do without them. Every mail brings us letters ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by express to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Will you not supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that any man or woman can carry around. Any one and see, or, better, a dozen, and they will sell, as samples, for $1. Agents should apply liberally with circulars. Now
